NEW WESTMINSTER, SATURDAY, DEC. 12, 1863.

THE SEIZURE OF THE "LABOUCHERE."

We have long been under the impression that Victoria carries on a very extensive illicit trade with the native tribes upon our seaboard. The occasional seizure and confiscation of small craft engaged in the trade, the seizure of a small fleet of them at one time last spring, the more recent seizure of several more by H. M. Gunboat Grappler, and last, not least, the seizure of the steamer Labouche the other day by the Collector of Customs, all tend to prove the extent of the contraband and smuggling trade which is continually carried on between Victoria and the west coast of this Colony.

We have also labored under the impression that our Government, resident in Victoria, so far from using all diligence to suppress this trade, have actually winked at it. It may seem uncharitable in us to say so; but there is much circumstantial evidence in support of the assertion. In the first place they opposed an attempt on the part of the Collector of Customs to require all vessels trading on the coast to clear at this the only Port of Entry for the Colony, and, consequently, the only proper place for them to clear. So long as these vessels are permitted to clear at Victoria, where, if the people have any interest in the matter, it is all on the side of the smuggler, just so long will this illicit trade flourish. When a company possessing the capital and enjoying the standing and influence of the Hudson Bay Company—a company actually having Honorable prefixed to their name—is caught at it what may we expect from ordinary traders, to whom the temptation must be far greater?

Anything we could now say as to the issue of this last seizure would be mere surmise, and, consequently, would possess very little importance. But we very much fear that the powerful influence of the Company, backed up by the sympathy of a renegade and absentee Government, will contravene the efforts of the Collector and defeat the ends of justice. Why was not the Collector permitted to bring the vessel to the Colony whose laws she had broken? Why should she be treated differently from other vessels seized for a similar offence? We believe there is the most conclusive evidence against her for two distinct offences, viz: trading liquor to Indians for skins, and selling goods which had not paid duty. The amount proven is not large, it is true. But it is fair to assume if the Hudson Bay Company would transgress in small things they would do it in large, especially where there is money to be made at it. The Indian liquor traffic is one of peculiar turpitude, fraught with the most fatal consequences to the aborigines themselves and danger to the common weal; and for a company occupying the position of the one alluded to, to engage in it is a shame and a disgrace, calling for the most exemplary punishment at the hands of the authorities. Unfortunately for us, however, the H. B. Co. proclivities of our Government are too well known, and we repeat, although feeling the fullest confidence that the Collector of Customs will fearlessly and faithfully perform his duty, as far as he is permitted to do so, still we fear the result of H. B. Co. influence, an influence with which the head of the Government is deeply tainted. It is probable, however, that the case will come up for trial in our Courts shortly, and we deem it proper to withhold further remarks respecting the nature and degree of the offence until the facts are brought out in the regular way.

When Dr. Stillingfleet preached in Court before King Charles the Second, he always read his sermon. The King, after thanking him one day for his excellent discourse, asked the reason he made such a distinction between the Court and his own parishioners, as to preach to the latter without a book, and to read his sermons to the former. "And it may please your Majesty," said the doctor, "when I am in the Royal Chapel I find myself in another world; I have the eyes of your Majesty, and of all the lords and ladies of the Court, upon me, and it becomes me to weigh every word I utter. And now shall I beg your Majesty to answer me a question?" "With all my heart," said the monarch. "Your Majesty's speeches are very short, and you never take your eyes off the paper till you have finished. Pray tell me the reason." "Why my good doctor," said the King, "I never made a speech to any people without asking for money: and I am ashamed, therefore, to look them in the face."

NEW WESTMINSTER, SATURDAY, DEC. 12, 1863.

A MINT AND ASSAY OFFICE FOR VICTORIA.

As we have more than once said, we have not the slightest objection in the world to our friends on the other side of the Gulf having a Mint and an Assay Office, any more than we have that they should be ruled by an Autocrat or a King, so long as they don't pilfer from the Treasury of this Colony in order to pay the expense of working their institutions, and making up for the defalcations of their officials. Vancouver Island is a distinct Colony, just as much as Canada, Nova Scotia or Australia, the only difference being its geographical contiguity. We have, therefore, no interest in its welfare beyond that common interest of brotherhood which is supposed to exist between those Colonies which constitute so important a part of the Great Empire to which it is our glory to belong. We would prefer to see our Island neighbor prosperous and free, provided always it be not at our expense.

Our contemporary of the Colonist has become so addicted to treating this Colony as a mere portion of or appendage to his own that he seems really to be in danger of forgetting that it is separate and distinct. This may be the result of the union-manias by which he has so long been afflicted. In an article in his issue of the 5th inst., advocating the establishment of a Mint and Assay at Victoria, we find the following passage:

"It has always been a matter of regret that the golden products of our mines should pass almost untouched through our city, and go to swell the revenue and prosperity of a foreign country."
"The golden products of our mines!" Where are the gold mines of Vancouver Island? Echo answers, where? There was considerable excitement a short time ago in Victoria respecting the "Gold(?) Stream" diggings. Lively stables were emptied, and even Vice-Regal visits were talked of. But we believe they are—to use a miner's phrase—"played out." Quartz, also, was discovered in the same locality, and specimens were sent here for assay; but the return received from the Government Assay was, "No gold; no silver!" Where, then, are their mines, "the golden products" of which pass through the city "and go to swell the revenue of a foreign country?" Can it be possible that the sapient Editor of the Colonist is all the time alluding to the mines of British Columbia? Yes, it is even so. Laboring under the mania produced by his fatal union-bobby—which proved too much for a mentalist not naturally over strong—he still raves about "our mines," quite oblivious to the melancholy fact that his hobby-horse died in October, and that the rich mines he had brought himself to fancy all his own really belong to another Colony altogether. So much for his insanity; now for his impudence.

A little farther on in the same article we find the following:

"In the event of the Government deciding on the establishment of an Assay Office here, considerable time must necessarily elapse before the necessary material could be procured from England; all the heavy portion of the plant at least would have to come by sailing vessel, and it would probably be nine months before it could be made available here. In view of this, and of the present reduction in the staff of assayers at New Westminster, some arrangements might be made by which part of the material in that office could be used here till the arrival of that ordered from England."

This extract speaks for itself, and comments from us would only weaken its effect.

Poetry.

The Book that we Read Together.

We sat by the window, all glowing,
With light from the western sky,
And read the Bible together,
My precious mother and I.

Ripe apples the full boughs were bending,
And quinces hung on the tree,
While buckwheat in silvery splendor,
Gave food to the hungry bee.

Very calm was that summer evening,
No leaf on the tree was stirred,
No sound save the dropping walnut,
Was in the soft stillness heard.

As still is the voice of the mother
Who loving walked by my side,
Till she led my young feet to the Saviour,
Then folded her hands and died.

We read of the Syrian woman,
Repelled, but still undimayed,
Who ceased not to plead for her daughter,
Till Jesus granted His aid.

Then, kissing my forehead, my mother,
Said: "Thus have I prayed for thee,
That God would redeem thee, my Helen,
From earliest infancy."

I remember that autumn evening,
When reading the story now,
I recall the words of my mother,
I feel her kiss on my brow.

And the book that we read together,
Speaks sweetly and well to me;
Unclouding the windows of heaven,
Where she is waiting for me.

Condition of Jackson.

A correspondent of the Atlanta Appeal, after detailing the destruction of property by the Federal forces, thus depicts the abandoned conduct of the victorious troops:—No act of wanton insult to ladies is reported to have been committed by the enemy, but houses were freely entered and sacked. The suburbs of Jackson, recently so beautiful, are all scorched, withered and destroyed. The city itself, once so proud of its neat, cheerful, and in some places elegant appearance, is a wreck—a ruin—a blasting evidence of the savage brutality of our hated and despised foe. A still, styled "Curse of God," could not have visited a captured town with more ruthless vengeance. Let them bury, our time will come yet! "The mills of the gods grind slowly."

The same correspondent, writing a day later, gives the following additional particulars:—Dr. Bailey arrived here yesterday from Jackson. The half has not been told touching the vandalism of the enemy while in occupation of that ill-fated city. Every house in the place that was unoccupied, and nearly all of those whose owners remained to protect them, were sacked and gutted. Officers as high as colonels were seen to enter and steal articles of value and virtue, and carry them away. Some of these were heard to say, "Well, I have never stolen anything before, but I will take this." Mahogany and rosewood bedsteads, with mattresses, mosquito bars, and all appendages of a complete and elegant couch, with bedsteads set up and the whole standing as if in a bedchamber, together with rosewood, marble-slatted dressing-cases, bureaus, chairs, sofas, fine tables, pianos, ottomans, mirrors, and all the costly furniture of the citizens were scattered all along the intrenchments from the southern bend of the Pearl river to the extreme northern line of the works.

On these beds the Yankees slept, and carried on their debaucheries with the negro wenches of the town; played cards and gambled ate and drank on the tables, and amused themselves among this stolen plunder during their drunken carousals in their own refined and elegant way, and at their departure broke them in to a thousand pieces. One general, said to be a General Logan, carried off two fine parlour chairs from Mr. Helm's residence, telling Mr. Helm that he would return them, but failed to perform his promise. The fine State library, in the capital building, they hauled off in waggon took what books they desired, and destroyed the rest. This library was one of the most select and costly in the Confederate States. Its destruction is not only a loss to Mississippi, but to mankind, and cannot be replaced.

In Mr. Hobson's residence, they cut his family portraits, mutilated everything they could not carry off; cut large square places from the centre of his carpets, and wrote vulgar and obscene sentences upon the walls. But these things seem to have been their peculiar mission in every house; for, in addition to the pillage, destruction and mutilation of private property, the slime of their wretchedly low and libidinous language can be traced on every wall, the witnesses at once of their vulgarity, barbarism, and crime; the blasting and deformed, but still full and ample evidence that they are Yankees.

A number of private residences in the suburbs of the city are reported as burned down, but I could not learn the names of the owners. Near the business part of the city that was destroyed, Mrs. Saunders and Mrs. Laughlin's boarding houses, and Morey's drug store, are about all that are left standing.

THE SUFFERER'S BEST FRIEND.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

All Disorders affecting the Liver,
Stomach and Bowels.

These Pills can be confidently recommended as the most simple and certain remedy for indigestion, flatulency, acidity, heartburn, colic, constipation, and all the many maladies resulting from disordered stomach or bowels. In all diseases it is of primary importance to set the stomach right. These Pills are purifiers, alteratives, and strengtheners of the stomach. They may be taken under any circumstances. Though powerfully tonic, and satisfactorily aperient, they are mild in their operation, and beneficial to the whole system.

Weakness and Debility, Nervous Irritability.

The wholesome effect exercised by these admirable Pills over the blood and fluids generally is like a charm in dispelling low spirits, and restoring cheerfulness. Their general aperient qualities will fit them for a domestic medicine, particularly for females of all ages and periods of life. They never betray any disagreeable irritating qualities; they quickly eject all impurities from the system, and regulate every function of the body, giving wonderful tone and energy to weak and debilitated persons, while they brace and strengthen the nervous system in a most extraordinary manner.

To Regain Health, Strength and Vigour.

Whenever persons find themselves in that state termed a "little out of health," and there are so many causes at work to shorten life, it is necessary that Holloway's Pills, the finest purifier of the blood ever known, should be at once taken, as they not only rid both solids and fluids of all morbid matters, but regulate all disordered actions, and strengthen the frame in a most extraordinary manner.

Old Coughs, Colds and Asthmatical Affections.

These Pills, assisted in their action by rubbing Holloway's Ointment very effectually twice a day upon the throat and chest, and keeping those parts covered with the preparation, will be found the most effectual remedy for asthma, coughs, colds, bronchitis, and influenza. These remedies tranquilize the hurried breathing, soothe the irritated air-tubes, and assist in dislodging the phlegm which stops up the air-passages. This treatment has proved wonderfully efficient in not only curing old settled colds, but asthma of many years standing, and even when patients who were in so bad a state as to be unable to lie down on their beds lest they be choked with phlegm.

Derangement and Distention of the Bowels, Flatulency, Diarrhoea and Dysentery.

Any symptoms of the above complaints should be immediately met by appropriate doses of these Pills, according to the printed directions: delay may be followed by disastrous consequences. These Pills are a certain remedy for all the ailments of the alimentary canal, they secure the thorough digestion of the food, and act most kindly on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys. As a household medicine they are unrivalled, and should always be at hand.

Very Important, of Costiveness Beware.

Rarely but little notice is taken of costiveness, yet, at certain periods, it is a sure sign that danger is near. All who are seized with apoplexy and paralysis, have previously suffered from costiveness. In the former case the blood flies to the head, a small vein is ruptured on the brain, and we know the rest. Let wives consult their husbands, and husbands their wives, never to go to bed a second night, if the bowels have not been properly moved during the day, particularly if they feel heavy and drowsy. A few gentle doses of these fine Pills will regulate the circulation of the blood, and all dangerous symptoms.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases:—

Ague	Female Irregularities	Retention of Urine
Asthma	Fevers of all kinds	Scrofula, or King's Evil
Bilious Complaints	Fits	Sore Throat
Blotches on the skin	Gout	Stone and Gravel

ALL CURES MADE EASY!!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Bad Legs, Ulcerous Sores, Bad Breasts and Old Wounds.

No description of wound, sore, or ulcer can resist the healing properties of this excellent Ointment. The worst cases readily assume a healthy appearance whenever this medicament is applied; sound flesh springs up from the bottom of the wound, inflammation of the surrounding skin is arrested, and a complete and permanent cure quickly follows the use of the Ointment.

Piles, Fistulas and Internal Inflammation.

These distressing and weakening diseases may with certainty be cured by the sufferers themselves, if they will use Holloway's Ointment, and closely attend to the printed instructions. It should be well rubbed upon the neighbouring parts, when all obvious matter will be removed. A poultice of bread and water may sometimes be applied at bed time with advantage; and most scrupulous cleanliness must be observed. If those who read this paragraph will bring it under the notice of such of their acquaintances whom it may concern, they will render a service that will never be forgotten, as a cure is certain.

Rheumatism, Gout & Neuralgia.

Nothing has the power of reducing inflammation and subduing pain in these complaints in the same degree as Holloway's cooling Ointment and purifying Pills. When used simultaneously they drive all inflammation and depravities from the system, subdue and remove all enlargement of the joints, and leave the sinews and muscles lax and uncontracted. A cure may always be effected, even under the worst circumstances, if the use of these medicines be persevered in.

Eruptions, Scald Head, Ringworm & other Skin Diseases.

After fomentation with warm water, utmost relief and speediest cure can be readily obtained in all complaints affecting the skin and joints, by the simultaneous use of the Ointment and Pills. But it must be remembered that nearly all skin diseases indicate the depravity of the blood and derangement of the liver and stomach, consequently, in many cases, time is required to purify the blood, which will be effected by a judicious use of the Pills. The general health will be readily improved, although the eruption may be driven out more freely than before, and which should not be promoted; perseverance is necessary.

Sore Throats, Diphtheria, Quinsey, Mumps & all other Derangements of the Throat.

On the appearance of any of these maladies the Ointment should be well rubbed at least three times a day upon the neck and upper part of the chest, so as to penetrate to the glands, as salt is forced into meat; this course will at once remove inflammation and ulceration. The worst cases will yield to this treatment by following the printed directions.

Scrofula or King's Evil and Swelling of the Glands.

This class of cases may be cured by Holloway's purifying Pills and Ointment, as their double action of purifying the blood and strengthening the system renders them more suitable than any other remedy for all complaints of a scrofulous nature. As the blood is impure the liver, stomach and bowels, being much deranged, require purifying medicine to bring about a cure.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—

Bad Legs.	Chapped Hands.	Scalds.
Bad Breasts.	Contracted and Stiff Joints.	Sore Nipples.
Burns.	Elephantiasis.	Sore-throats.
Bunions.	Fistulas.	Skin-diseases.
Bite of Mosquitoes.	Gout.	Sore-heads.
and Sand-Flies.	Gravel.	Tumors.
Coco-bay.	Glandular Swellings.	Ulcers.
Chieft-foot.	Lumbago.	Wounds.
Corns (soft).	Piles.	Yaws.
Cancers.	Rheumatism.

Sold at the establishment of PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY, 244, Strand, (near Temple Bar) London; and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the civilized world, at the following prices:—1s. 12d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., 22s., and 33s. each Pot.
